

OUR VISION - JOIN THE REVOLUTION NOW!

Live-Concerts for everybody! Are you ready to rock?

Regular tickets have increased tremendously in price over the last years. The average ticket price today is three times more expensive than 20 years ago, making the attendance unaffordable for a large audience group.

Additionally, access to live concerts is limited by several further factors. Concerts are dominantly performed in selective large cities and economically sound countries leaving fans in rural areas or non popular countries behind.

The music industry could generate a substantial amount of higher revenues, if a larger audience could be reached!

Left alone fans around the globe are eagerly waiting for a way to experience state of the art live concerts at an affordable price.

WHAT IF...

- you could enjoy and afford concerts from all around the globe in REALTIME without even leaving your home?
• it was possible to sell an UNLIMITED amount of tickets for a live concert?
• you could choose your POSITION in the hall during a concert and even be ON STAGE right next to your favorite artist?
• you could let all your friends on SOCIAL MEDIA know, which concert you are currently watching?

ConcertVR took up the challenge and is proud to present an exciting blockchain based solution for a so far unsatisfying concert environment.

We already have a fully functional prototype...
